Memorial Tower

Tower Drive

LSU's 175-foot tower is a memorial to Louisianans who died in World War I. Memorial Tower's bells chime every quarter hour and can play special tunes like the LSU alma mater. University tours depart from the tower at 10:00 a.m. each weekday, excluding holidays.

The Quad

The Quadrangle, nicknamed "the Quad," is the heart of campus. Completed by the campus's 1926 dedication, the Quad is the historic core of campus that holds the first group of campus structures built. The Quad is lush with oaks, azaleas, crepe myrtles, and magnolia trees.

Greek Theatre

Dalrymple Drive

Built in 1926 to hold the entire campus population, the Greek Theatre was once the location of major University assemblies. Today it is the starting place for the Golden Band from Tigerland's procession into Tiger Stadium.

Indian Mounds

Fieldhouse Drive at Dalrymple Drive

The Indian Mounds are approximately 5,000 years old, making them older than the Egyptian Pyramids. Scientists believe the mounds were ceremonial, not burial sites, but their real purpose remains a mystery.

French House

Highland Road at Raphael Semmes Road

www.honors.lsu.edu

"La Maison Française," a Renaissance-style, Normandy château, was built in 1935 as a center for intense study of French language and culture. Today it houses the prestigious LSU Honors College.

LSU Lakes

Dalrymple Drive and West Lakeshore Drive

Run, walk, and jog your way around the 300 acres of freshwater lakes that surround the LSU campus. The lakes, created in the 1930s, are part of what makes LSU one of the nation's most beautiful campuses.

Athletic Venues

Nicholson Drive at North Stadium Road

www.lsusports.net

Home to some of the nation's finest NCAA athletic programs, LSU athletic venues, including Tiger Stadium, the Pete Maravich Assembly Center, and Alex Box Stadium are always full on gameday. Visit www.lsusports.net for schedules and ticket information.

Mike's Habitat

North Stadium Road

www.mikethetiger.com

Mike VI's 15,000-square-foot habitat is a state-of-the-art facility for LSU's beloved mascot. Mike VI's reign began on September 14, 2007, marking more than 70 years with a live mascot on campus.
